

COLLEGE CULTURE

Your college journey begins here

College Culture is a series of video programs developed to inform and prepare today's high school student and their family for the college experience.

Post secondary education concerns and uncertainties are addressed by actual college students, parents of college students, school counselors, and college recruiters. The programs discuss a variety of significant college issues such as SAT test preparation, financial aid preparation, scholarship searches, succeeding in college, housing issues and more.

BorderLink Project Overview

The BorderLink Project was a federally-funded Technology Innovation Challenge Grant (1999-2004) that focused on applying existing and emerging technologies to formerly insurmountable classroom learning and instructional obstacles in remote and geographically isolated high schools.

The Imperial County Office of Education, in partnership with the San Diego County Office of Education, used grant funds to level the playing field for all high school students in both counties. The mission of the BorderLink Project was to “use technology to remove barriers to post-secondary opportunities for students in remote and isolated schools.”

The College Culture Series was one of several resources developed by the BorderLink Project. For additional information about the BorderLink Project, please visit the website at www.borderlink.org.
